

The China Market for Medical Device Contract Manufacturing

Brochure

Locating medical device suppliers and understanding their business activities and capabilities can be a time-consuming endeavor. The rise of rapidly growing economies, particularly in Asia and South America are changing the landscape of the medical device industry. Devices receiving marketing authorization from the U.S. FDA are increasingly being manufactured outside of North America. China is one of the largest suppliers of contract manufacturing for the medical device industry. Suppliers wishing to outsource their medical device manufacturing requirements need to be fully aware of the contract manufacturing activities and resources of China.

China consists of 4 Municipalities, 23 Provinces, and 5 Autonomous regions. Medical Device Product and Service suppliers are spread across the provinces unevenly, with the number of companies located within a particular province ranging from over a thousand to less than ten. Sixty-five percent of the more than five thousand medical device companies located in China and listed in the FDA's Establishment Registration database are within three provinces.
